

Data Privacy Notice

Summary of how we and the RFU use your data

- London Welsh Rugby Club uses your personal data to manage and administer your membership and your involvement with its teams and club, and to keep in contact with you for these purposes.
- Some data is shared with the RFU, who use your data to regulate, develop and manage the game.
- Data is also shared with London Welsh Supporters Club and Welsh Rugby Union (WRU).
- Where we or the RFU rely on your consent, such as any consent we seek for email marketing, you can withdraw this consent at any time.
- Amongst the data we collect from you may be medical (including injury) information. We will hold this where you (or your parent) have given consent, so that we can ensure we are aware of your condition and can that you are supported appropriately.
- Where you volunteer to work in a particular role within the game, you may be required to undergo a Disclosure & Barring Service check using the RFU's eDBS system. The result of this check will be input into your RFU Game Management Service (GMS) record.

What does this notice cover?

This notice describes how London Welsh Rugby Club (also referred to as “the Club”, “we” or “us”) will make use of the data we handle in relation to our members and players, including our use of the Game Management System (“GMS”) provided by the Rugby Football Union (“RFU”). The notice also describes the RFU’s use of data on GMS.

It also describes your data protection rights, including a right to object to some of the processing which we carry out. More information about your rights, and how to exercise them, is set out in the “What rights do I have?” section.

What information do we collect?

We collect and process personal data from you or your parent when you join and when we carry out annual renewals of your membership. This includes:

- your name, username and password;
- your gender;
- your parent or guardian;
- marital status and dependents;
- next of kin (family relationship);
- your age and date of birth;
- your RFU ID (as assigned in GMS);
- your home address, email address and phone number;
- Your school, college, university contact details;
- your passport and NI details, and documents where we have to check your eligibility or ability to work for us;

- your occupation;
- your type of membership and participation record in particular teams, match reports; photographs and video coverage;
- your disciplinary and grievance information;
- your roles that you occupy to support and help manage the Club, such as Coach, First Aider, Chair, Safeguarding Officer, Membership Secretary etc.;
- your payment and/or bank account details, where you provide these to pay for membership;
- your marketing preferences, including any consents you have given us;
- your medical conditions or disability, where you provide this to us with your consent (or your parent's consent) to ensure we are aware of any support we may need to provide to you.

Some information will be generated as part of your involvement with us, in particular data about your performance, involvement in particular matches, in match reports and details of any disciplinary issues or incidents you may be involved in on and off the pitch, such as within health and safety records.

What information do we receive from third parties?

Sometimes, we receive information about you from third parties. For example, if you are a child, we may be given information about you by your parents.

We may receive information relating to your existing registrations with other clubs or rugby bodies or disciplinary history from the RFU through GMS. Additionally, for certain role holders or those working with children, we may receive information from the Disclosure and Barring Service and RFU on the status of any DBS check you have been required to take.

How do we use this information, and what is the legal basis for this use?

We process this personal data for the following purposes:

- As required by the Club to conduct our business and pursue our legitimate interests, in particular:
 - we will use your information to manage and administer your membership and your participation with its teams and club, and to keep in contact with you for these purposes;
 - we will also use data to maintain records of our performances and history, including match reports, score lines and team sheets;
 - we will use your data to communicate Club supporters' newsletters, updates and news;
 - along with Club newsletters and updates we may choose to send you promotions and offers by post, phone, or by email for similar Club activities, merchandise and services that you have already bought;
 - we use data of some individuals to invite them to take part in market research;
 - communicating with you to ask for your opinion on London Welsh, or other rugby and Club related initiatives; and
 - we use CCTV cameras to maintain the security of our premises, and may use this video to investigate incidents at the Club or its premises;

- To fulfil a contract, or take steps linked to a contract: this is relevant where you make a payment for your membership and any merchandise, or enter a competition. This includes:
 - taking payments;
 - communicating with you;
 - providing and arranging the delivery or other provision of products, prizes or services;
- Where you give us consent:
 - we will send you direct marketing or promotional material by email or via other media that you have opted to use;
 - we may handle medical or disability information you or your parent provides to us, to ensure we support you appropriately;
 - on other occasions where we ask you for consent, we will use the data for the purpose which we explain at that time.
- For purposes which are required by law:
 - we maintain records such as health and safety records and accounting records in order to meet specific legal requirements;
 - we ensure, where you volunteer to work with children, that you have undergone an appropriate DBS check – this is also carried out with your consent;
 - where you hold a role at the Club requiring us to check your right to work, we may process information to meet our statutory duties; and
 - we may respond to requests by government or law enforcement authorities conducting an investigation.

How does the RFU use any of my information?

The RFU provides GMS, but make its own use of the following information:

- your name;
- your gender;
- your date of birth;
- your RFU ID (as assigned in GMS);
- your home address, email address and phone number; and
- your type of membership and involvement in particular teams at the Club, or any key role you may have been allocated, such as Chair, Safeguarding Lead, Membership Secretary etc.

The RFU uses this information as follows:

- As required by the RFU to conduct its business and pursue its legitimate interests, in particular:
 - communicating with you or about you when necessary to administer Rugby in England, including responding to any questions you send to the RFU about GMS;
 - administering and ensuring the eligibility of players, match officials and others involved in English rugby – this may involve the receipt of limited amounts of sensitive data in relation to disabled players, where they are registered for a disabled league or team, or in relation to anti-doping matters;

- maintaining records of the game as played in England, in particular maintaining details of discipline and misconduct;
 - monitoring use of GMS, and using this to help it monitor, improve and protect its content and services and investigate any complaints received from you or from others about GMS;
 - maintaining statistics and conducting analysis on the make-up of rugby's participants;
 - ensuring compliance with the current RFU Rules and Regulations including those on the affiliation of clubs, referee societies, constituent bodies and other rugby bodies, and registration of players; and
 - communicating with you to ask for your opinion on RFU initiatives.
- For purposes which are required by law:
 - The RFU will ensure, where you will work with children and where this is required, that you have undergone an appropriate DBS check – this is also carried out with your consent.
 - The RFU may respond to requests by government or law enforcement authorities conducting an investigation.

Withdrawing consent or otherwise objecting to direct marketing

Wherever we rely on your consent, you will always be able to withdraw that consent, although we may have other legal grounds for processing your data for other purposes, such as those set out above. In some cases, we are able to send you direct marketing without your consent, where we rely on our legitimate interests. You have an absolute right to opt-out of direct marketing, or profiling we carry out for direct marketing, at any time. You can do this by following the instructions in the communication where this is an electronic message, or by contacting us using the details set out below in the “How do I get in touch with you or the RFU?” section.

Who will we share or provide this data with, where and when?

In addition to sharing data with the RFU, some limited information may be shared with other stakeholders in rugby, such as the WRU, other clubs, Constituent Bodies, referee societies, league organisers, so that they can maintain appropriate records and assist us in organising matches and administering the game.

Personal data may be shared with government authorities and/or law enforcement officials if required for the purposes above, if mandated by law or if required for the legal protection of our or the RFU's legitimate interests in compliance with applicable laws.

Personal data will also be given to third party service providers, who will process it on our behalf for the purposes identified above. Such third parties include the RFU as the provider of GMS and providers of our website hosting and other admin system providers.

Some London Welsh Teams use third party processors, such as Pitchero, Teamer and WhatsApp to organise fixtures, team availability and selection. These websites and services have their own privacy notices governing their use of data and falls outside the scope of this Privacy Notice.

Where information is transferred outside the UK and/or EEA, and where this is to a stakeholder or vendor in a country that is not subject to an adequacy decision by the EU Commission, data is adequately protected by EU Commission approved standard contractual clauses, an appropriate Privacy Shield certification or a vendor's Processor Binding Corporate Rules. A copy of the relevant mechanism can be provided for your review on request.

What rights do I have?

You have the right to ask us for a copy of your personal data; to correct, delete or restrict (stop any active) processing of your personal data; and to obtain the personal data you provide to us for a contract or with your consent in a structured, machine readable format.

In addition, you can object to the processing of your personal data in some circumstances (in particular, where we don't have to process the data to meet a contractual or other legal requirement, or where we are using the data for direct marketing).

These rights may be limited, for example if fulfilling your request would reveal personal data about another person, or if you ask us to delete information which we are required by law to keep or have compelling legitimate interests in keeping.

You have the same rights for data held by the RFU for its own purposes on GMS.

To exercise any of these rights, you can get in touch with us— or, as appropriate, the RFU or its data protection officer – using the details set out below. If you have unresolved concerns, you have the right to complain to the applicable data protection authority where you live, work or where you believe a breach may have occurred. This is the Information Commissioner's Office in the UK.

Much of the information listed above must be provided on a mandatory basis so that we can make the appropriate legal checks and register you as required by RFU Rules and Regulations. We will inform you which information is mandatory when it is collected. Some information is optional, particularly information such as your medical information. If this is not provided, we may not be able to provide you with appropriate assistance, services or support.

How do I get in touch with you or the RFU?

We hope that we can satisfy queries you may have about the way we process your data. If you have any concerns about how we process your data, or would like to opt out of direct marketing, you can get in touch with dataprotectionofficer@londonwelshrugby.com by writing to London Welsh Rugby Club, Old Deer Park, Kew Road, Richmond, Surrey TW9 2AZ

If you have any concerns about how the RFU process your data, you can get in touch at legal@rfu.com or by writing to The Data Protection Officer, Rugby Football Union, Twickenham Stadium, 200 Whitton Road, Twickenham TW2 7BA.

How long will you retain my data?

We process the majority of your data for as long as you are an active member and for 6 years after this.

Where we process personal data for marketing purposes or with your consent, we process the data for six years unless you ask us to stop, when we will only process the data for a short period after this (to allow us to implement your requests). We also keep a record of the fact that you have asked us not to send you direct marketing or to process your data indefinitely so that we can respect your request in future.

Where we process personal data in connection with performing a contract or for a competition, we keep the data for six years from your last interaction with us.

We will retain information held to maintain statutory records in line with appropriate statutory requirements or guidance.

The RFU will maintain records of individuals who have registered on GMS, records of DBS checks and the resulting outcomes and other disciplinary matters for such period as is set out in the RFU's Data Retention Schedule.

Records of your involvement in a particular match, on team sheets, on results pages or in match reports, photography or video coverage may be held indefinitely both by us and the RFU in order to maintain a record of the game.
